Cont'd

I am doing this as best I can, I am in severe pain, with extreme infection I am fighting from the mesh in my pubic area, I have been told by 2 DRs it can not be taken out. I didn't know about it for 11 years and during that time I lost my insides thinking that was causing my pain, as the DR suggested (Diff. DR) The mesh was placed in 2003 and I was unaware until later in 2012. At this time I went to my gynecologist and he tried to get it out, he could only get 1/2 because it was behind the pubic bone and it is equivalent to the mesh (ProteGen) recalled in 1999 and the Sparc mesh put in me, are said to have very small holes that skin and blood vessels grow through, I am in terrible pain and would give all I have if the mesh was not in my body, because there is not much hope of getting it out, and gaurantee that I will live through it. (I spoke to a second specialist a couple weeks ago) I raise two grandchildren and my sister my not being well takes my time from them and this saddens me. I do the best I can for them, but never without
